WANTED—A SONG

There reposes upon the editor's desk a bit of literature concerning an intensive drive and nationwide search for song-writing talent. We wondered if there might be some reader who has tried a hand at song writing. There is often hidden talent that lies unobserved until a friend pushes the shy soul into the limelight. From a number of the songs we hear sung and played over radios, we figure that some of our neighbors might do better. Modern compositions give us some pretty melodies, but will many of them live the life of Annie Laurie and Kentucky Home? The songs that live through the years are not the fly-by-nightclub ditties that causes a spasm and are gone on the breeze.

TOO MUCH STRAIN

At a recent American Optometric Association meeting, a doctor told the assembly that two million school children failed to pass their grades each year because they have faulty eyesight. He also stated that the student of today has to read 15 times as much as the pupil in 1915. This gives us the connection between faulty eyesight and the strain placed upon eyes through heavy study. The question that will arise in many a parent's mind will be whether the child of today is getting 15 times as much out of education as the child of 1913.

REAL SPORT

It was in the year 1868 that a newspaper editor wrote of the importance of muscular exercise through swimming. He suggested that "his be taken up by more Americans where possible to suit the sport to the climate. Since exercise wards off disease the editor of 1868 held that some day there would be such a thing as a swimming "rink". Today we have hundreds of thousands of pools. Lessons in swimming are given in schools and camps. Matrons may learn in Y.W.C.A. classes. Our folks swim because they enjoy it rather than because it wards off disease. But whether you are a wader, dabbler, or floater, take advantage of stream, lake, ocean or pool. It is real sport!

MISSING PENNIES

The U. S. Mint informs us that 5 million pennies have been lost since they first started minting them. These misplaced coppers may be in many children's banks. These have disappeared from circulation may be down a drain or lost in small cracks by hundreds of youngsters. The sales tax on articles has brought forth the lack of these coins, no doubt. Someone suggests that we have new ones minted with a hole in the center as the Chinese. We could string them on ribbons for necklaces. We recently read where a plate of pennies appeared on the street of a mid-western city. A man had heated the pennies to a red glow and tossed them to children to hear them cry when they touched the hot coins. A judge didn't hesitate to fine this fellow an amusement tax with a jail sentence to cool off the episode. The entire affair turned out to be less amusing than the donor of the pennies expected, and we don't think him for putting pennies back into circulation in this way.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay.

Well, the political crystal gazer as it again and gubernatorial dose sheets are beginning to circulate in ever increasing number. Simple souls, inclined to place confidence in such prognostications will find the following formula helpful in forming an intelligent opinion:

Take the names of all candidates listed on the various ballots add a dozen or so of your own mix thoroughly as you slowly stir in several tablespoonsful of human oil and a large glob of salt. Permit the mess to simmer in your mind for awhile then season with timely sliced honey and a apple-sauce, garnish with the pat of the gum-shoe boys and bar fly, add a dash of street corner blarney and barbershop lingo. Then you talk a deep breath, hold your nose and make three guesses—wait a minute or two and if a man answers, hang up, you're probably got the wrong number.

But as folks seem to like guessing games and I don't deny any more about it than the next guy and probably not as much. I assume it would be right and proper for me to drag out a turban and robe and add my contribution to your mental delinquency.

Among those we find grappling about the state taking a census of well heeled stumps and looking for platform phantoms are old "Ironhorse" Bill DeLoach, Dan Gaurant, Don Chappell, Burton Townsend Schoepf, Fuller "Burr" Warren, "Joey" Carter, Walter "Booster" Fraser, Fred "Longshot" Touchton, G. Pierce Wood (if he could) and A. Buck of others.

Again warning you that I don't know anything about it and your guess is as good as mine, I simply point out the fact that Tallahassee's DeLoach knows his way about and most of the answers but he's not as young as he used to be and campaigning calls for a stout heart and lusty lungs. He lost by a hair last year and his hair is thinner now than it was then. Miami's Don Chappell has a lot on the ball but last time it turned out to be as tight as his belt behind it. Don't discount him. He'll run a good race in spite of his previous defeat.

Jacksonville's Fuller Warren has youth, vim, vigor and a gift of gab that would make a tobacco auctioneer look like a deaf-mute.

He'll draw bigger crowds and entertain 'em better than any other candidate. He's got Jerry Carter and while they call him "Amigo" they voted for somebody else.

Tampa's Burton Schoepf, with plenty of business experience but no political sense, has Dr. Townsend's "Blasphemy" which Andrew Cannon, Hendricks and several others can testify is a nice hand to draw to in any man's game. Opponents will out-talk and out-box him but he'll stay on his feet for he's no pushover.

Jerry Carter, through talkative as a gubernatorial candidate, will probably run for congress. If folks had wanted Jerry for Governor they could have elected him the last time.

Fred Touchton, the druggists "white boy" found at the bottom of one dose sheet and at the bottom of another, will find that "Medicine Show" don't draw crowds anymore and that political "salve in hand to sell than the kind they pass out in a store. If he don't like a "run-out powder" he'll need to take a lot of aspirin.

St. Augustine's Fraser, nourished from the "Fountain of Youth" has plenty of young ideas and has a good record as a "mayor". He will appeal to the city folk but he will be sold in the back woods.

G. Pierce Wood is a doubtful starter, his pleasing personality, shrewd and experience are offset with a Dupont label and the last legislature messed him up to where he would have to run as handicapped as a guy with "Ball" anghin.

Lee, frequently mentioned, would be a sap to run for anything but reelection to Congress. A great campaigner, he'll carry his own district and hold his own in west Florida but South Florida would defeat him on three counts, hat, tie and cross-stitch can.

Then there's Jess Parish, Harold Cole, Spencer's Harold Mack Wilcox, John Martin, B. F. Patey, Francis Whitehair, Raleigh Pettyway, V. P. Miller and a number of others who should be discounted; any of 'em could upset an applicant.

My guess is the customers will prefer a young man, but not too young, a business man rather than a politician and they'll want to hear more about him sooner rather than later. If I hear anything I'll let you know.

There are still those who remember the days when molasses in grocery stores came in a barrel, and salad dressing sold too slowly to stock much of it.

Jameson Suggests Boys' and Girls' Camp

The possibility of establishing a Boys' and Girls' Camp as a Belle Glade Community project, was advanced by the Rev. J. O. Jameson at the regular Wednesday noon Lions' Club meeting last week.

The idea of establishing the boys' and girls' camp came as a result of the annual Vacation Bible school which is being held here for the sixth consecutive summer at the Community Methodist Church. The school has been a success in its purpose to give to the children of the community a knowledge of the Bible and to give them a chance to give over a hundred boys and girls comprehensive training in Biblical worship, cooperation and in the development of latent talents which may materially aid the child to find the vocation in which he might be most interested.

At present, Rev. Jameson states, children enrolled are between the ages of 4 and 15, and are divided into three departments, primary, juniors and intermediate. Older children have in many instances been called upon to serve as junior leaders and thereby receive training in leadership. The membership in this school has increased each year and at present numbers 100.

Learning of Bible text occupies about one-fourth of the pupils' time, while singing, recreation and participation in creative activities divide the remaining time. The story method is used in teaching the history of scripture and hymns.

Rev. Jameson is conducting the school with the aid of a visiting pastor, Rev. W. C. McGarrity, and local leaders, for a period of two weeks.

'Juarez,' Co-Stars Muni, Davis

Around Muni and Bettie Davis a breath-takingly brilliant cast of famous names has been assembled. Brian Aherne for Maximilian, Gale Sonderberg for the Empress, Genevieve, Claude Rains for Napoleon III, Donald Crisp for Marshal Bazaine, John Garfield for Porfirio, Gilbert Roland for Colburn, Joseph Calleia for Uradi, the traitor—on and on through the 50 principal parts required to tell the story, at the Belle Glade theatre Sunday and Monday and Prince theatre Tuesday night.

The production tells the story of the ill-fated attempt of Napoleon III of France to make of Mexico an empire in name but actually a puppet state of France. It starts with the sorry intrigue by which the people of Mexico were tricked, forced to vote for monarchial rule and accept of their monarch, Maximilian von Habsburg, brother of Emperor Franz Josef of Austria-Hungary.

This well-meaning but futile would-be emperor is depicted arriving at Vera Cruz with his empress, the beautiful Carlotta, while Benito Juarez, the Zapotecan Indian—has been president of the country, flees to the north with his loyal cabinet.

From there, the honest and patriotic Juarez carries on an incessant guerrilla warfare against the French troops which have been sent over by Napoleon to keep Maximilian on his puppet throne, and meanwhile the emperor and his consort make futile gestures to win the affection of the Mexican people, the last of which is the adoption of a son.

It is on the very day of the adoption that the followers of Juarez blow up the French munitions dump in the capital city, and it is then, pressed by his generals, that Maximilian signs the infamous "black decree."

The people rally anew to Juarez and help also comes finally from the United States, which has been pre-occupied meanwhile with its own Civil War. That conflict over the United States under the Monroe Doctrine, forces Napoleon III to remove his troops from Mexico.

The great Mexican patriot, Juarez, is played by Muni, and Mrs. Davis is the Empress Carlotta, while Maximilian is portrayed by Aherne.

Aside from all the other elements which guarantee a "superlative production," it has additional insurance in the fact that it is the work of the same triumvirate which made such notable productions of "The Story of Louis Pasteur" and "The Life of Emilie Zola," namely, as Muni as star, William Dieterle as director, and Henry Blanke as associate producer.

The screen play was written by John Huston, Aherne as Maximilian and Wolfgang Reinhardt, based in part on a play by Franz Werfel and a story by Bertha Harding.
